Call to Order: Dr. Dorsey called the meeting to order at 9:35

- What types of courses and/or departments show as an option for students to take this exam? Example: a biology course, a student will still need to take the course if they want to be in premedicine. Would the student then intentionally gravitate to options for general education?
- What are the overall buckets pertaining to the challenge exams?
- Is this in line with HLC requirements?
- What is the framework around the medical students and how would challenge exam credit move forward when the students enter medical school.
- How many of these challenge exams are students allowed to take and challenge out of a specific course. This should be limited to a specific number or 1 course only.
- What is the core trying to accomplish by being the foundation of our Jesuit education if a student can opt out of several courses?
- Is this offered for undergraduate students only?

Dr. Dorsey shared conversations around the micro-credential proposal form and noted the following discussions:

- Will it impact other stakeholders around campus and if it is, what does this look like and are they on-board?
- There was a query regarding the issuing of the badges. We are not developing a new system for badging; we will continue to utilize Credly.
- If you are
